A NOTE FROM THE PUBLISHER

Dear friends in the sailing business:

No magazine makes sailing look better than SAILING. That has been true for 50 years. We celebrated our 50th anniversary in 2016, but our mission remains to stir our readers' love of sailing with every issue. We do it with beautiful photography. But we also do it with comprehensive editorial content that satisfies our readers' thirst for sailing information with everything from technical analysis by the most respected experts in their fields (the likes of Bob Perry and John Kretschmer) to riveting sailing adventure articles. And while other magazines in the world of sailing are content to exist in calm, sheltered waters, SAILING devotes pages in every issue to the always thought-provoking, sometimes controversial views of prize-winning opinion columnists. The result of all of this is a highly involved and engaged readership.

Check out that readership in our demographic profile. You'll see a snapshot of men and women who are financially successful and committed to devoting a substantial portion of the fruits of that success to boats, sails, equipment and sailing experiences. A very positive trend we're seeing is that though SAILING is America's oldest continuously published sailing magazine, our readers are getting younger. More people new to sailing have joined the ranks of our readership, bringing with them a vigor and enthusiasm that can only bolster results for SAILING advertisers.

There is something else about SAILING that is hard to measure but that we find all the time in our contacts with the public at boat shows and in lively email, website and telephone dialog with sailors: People respect SAILING. They have a high regard for the way we present the sport they love. Ask around. You're likely to hear that no magazine makes sailing look better than SAILING.

Sincerely,

Bill Schanen
Publisher

WHY SAILING MAGAZINE?

HERE'S WHAT READERS SAY ABOUT SAILING MAGAZINE:

"I value this magazine for the artful appearance, high quality authors and articles, high ratio of articles to ads and the high quality of merchandise and equipment that is advertised. Keep up the good work."

"SAILING is the only sailing magazine I get or read. I love the photos, the honesty, the reviews. "

"SAILING Magazine is a quality publication and truly an asset to the world of sailing. I look forward to receiving each new issue. Great job, and please keep up the good work."

"Love SAILING. Your editorials are simply the best. Superb writing!"

"The graphics are awesome. The magazine is really in a class by itself."

In our 51st year of publishing, SAILING Magazine is looking better than ever. We're unveiling a new premium size to showcase the beauty of sail. By slightly reducing the height of the magazine we'll have better placement on newsstands and allow advertisers to easily use ads created for other magazines. A square binding will give the magazine an even more polished look.

We're also giving the entire book a fresh, bold new look that will draw in readers and showcase our beautiful features and helpful practical information.

But there's plenty that isn't changing. SAILING will bring the best photography in the sport to life on our pages in a way no other magazine can. Our knowledgeable staff of lifelong sailors will continue to write insightful and interesting articles. Award-winning columnists Bill Schanen and Chris Caswell will still share their thoughts in columns that are beloved by readers. Yacht designer Bob Perry will continue to deliver his boat design critiques in each issue. And we'll continue to pack each issue full of the stories that readers love.

It's an exciting time in marketing. There are many ways to reach your audience. For 50 years, SAILING Magazine has delivered highly qualified, enthusiastic customers to our advertisers. Our readers are people who are buying sailboats, sailboat products, gear and more today. And they are raising the next generation of sailboat buyers.

There is no better way to get your brand in front of active, affluent sailors than on the pages of SAILING Magazine. Our readers tell us that the ads and articles in SAILING influence their buying decisions, and why wouldn't they? We've been their trusted source for decades. They turn to us to tell them what's new on the market, how to get the most out of their boats and how to be better sailors.

In addition to the best looking magazine in the business, our website, Splashes e-newsletter and digital edition offer new ways to reach your customers, so they know where to go when they are ready to buy. And we engage with readers regularly on Twitter and Facebook. As an independent publisher we're able to address advertisers' unique needs and ideas on an individual basis.

We look forward to partnering with you in 2017.
